

Sick Calls

Our Holy Faith provides great solace and strength for the sick. Hence sick calls should be sent in at the beginning of an illness. Delay should not be made until the sick one is in danger of death. This latter is criminal carelessness.

Call in person at the Parochial Residence for the priest and do not use the telephone unless there is question of an emergency. As a rule night calls can be avoided by the use of a little care and consideration.

While waiting for the priest to arrive, arrange a little table at the bed-side and in easy view of the patient.

Cover this table with a white linen cloth and place upon it Holy Water, two blessed candles, a Crucifix and a glass of fresh water with a spoon. The priests of the parish are always glad to bring Holy Communion to invalids and to those who for any reason of disability are confined to their homes.

Arrangements to this effect can be made with one of the priests.

Baptisms

Sundays and Wednesdays at one o'clock. At other times when arrangements have been made with one of the priests of the parish.

Infants should receive the Sacrament of Baptism as soon as possible after birth.

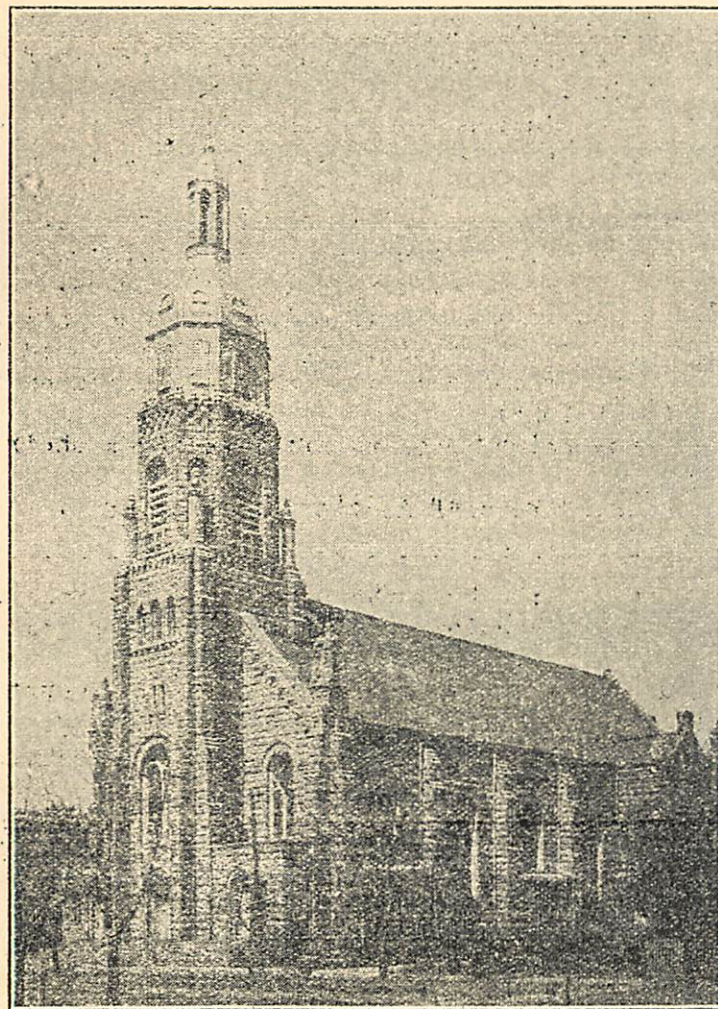

Delay is dangerous and Parents' responsibility in this matter is heavy. Two practical Catholics, a God-father and a God-mother, should be chosen as sponsors for the child.

Notification of Baptism to be given, should be made at the Parochial Residence one or two days before.
